Sir:

Applicants counsel received an Advisory Action dated October 23, 2003 in which the Examiner and her SPE refuse to enter an Amendment filed July 17, 2003.

The Amendment was filed on July 17, 2003 as evidenced by the post card receipt submitted on October 6, 2003.

That more than two months - - two and half months to be precise - - before the PTO issued a Final Rejection on September 2, 2003.

The Amendment was enterable as a matter of right.

The PTO's errors in handling papers for this application carry over to the PAIR system. The PAIR system docketing information for this application is inaccurate. The PAIR system does not show the July 17, 2003 Amendment. The PAIR system does not show the September 24, 2003 Request to Correct PTO records and for entry of the July 17, 2003 Amendment.

Must Applicants file a notice of appeal - an expense caused by the PTO's errors - and include a request to the Board to remand this case to enter the July 17, 2003 Amendment?

Or, must Applicants file papers with the Office of Petitions? The Applicants' assignee has had to do this before for other cases in this Group Art Unit.

Or, must Applicants seek intervention on Capital Hill?

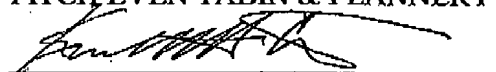

Or, is there some way that the PTO review its practices and timely match papers with files?

Voice mail messages were left with SPE Pyon and Examiner Simone this 30th day of October.

This two (2) page REQUEST TO SPE PYON AND PTO TO CORRECT THE RECORDS AND TO ENTER THE JULY 17, 2003 AMENDMENT was filed by facsimile to 703-746-7349 this 30th day of October 2003.

Respectfully submitted,
